

Hey Avocado Team,

My name is Dani and I work for Giftry-- a free app designed to help with holiday shopping. We put together a quiz for our users recently that is all about love languages. At the end of the quiz, it suggests an app to help show love in the language the user speaks in. Avocado is one of the apps we suggest!

If you've got a second, I would love for you to check out our quiz and share it on your social platforms. It can be a great way of helping introduce new people to the Avocado app--we just need to spread it around!

Additionally, we wrote a post on our blog about love languages and included a link to your site. Would love for you or your followers to check it out too.

You can take the quiz here:
